President's Message

My dear UIP colleagues;

It is nearly time for us to convene in Cracov, Poland. Prof. Tomasz Urbanek has put together a tremendous program with truly world-wide participation and simultaneous Spanish translation in the main hall throughout the meeting in the modern, state-of-the-art ICE Cracov Conference Center.

Of course there will be the official UIP functions, including UIP-only sessions each morning, with concurrent sessions in the afternoon. The General Council will meet Saturday, 24 August from 14:00-18:00. There will be lots to cover, so may I please ask all registered delegates to be present 30 minutes before the session begins to allow for official check-in. And a major decision will be made regarding the winning bid for the 2023 UIP meeting.

Additionally, a wonderful Social Program will introduce participants to the beautiful city of Cracov and surrounding areas. The Main Square with the Cloth Hall, Wawel Castle, and the Salt Mine are just some of the not-to-be-missed sites the city has to offer.

So please plan to join your UIP colleagues in Cracov next month. I can promise a scientific meeting of the highest quality, thanks to Prof Tomasz Urbanek and his committee, and a delightful setting in Cracov.

Warm regards,

Nick Morrison

Update on the UIP Education Committee

At UIP2018, the UIP general council formally approved the formation of an education committee and voted for Dr Oscar Bottini from Argentina as the Chair. Dr Bottini has developed terms of reference for this committee, the outlining the composition, general guidelines, requirements to become member and committee structure, requiring the committee to have representation by at least one member from Europe/ Africa, Asia/Oceania, North America and Central/ South America.

The UIP received 50 applications to the committee were received and reviewed by the entire executive committee. From this list, 20 members were elected to the committee. The successful candidates are currently being notified, and the list will be made publicly available on the UIP website soon.

Update on the UIP Scientific Committee

A number of applications have been received for positions on the UIP Scientific Committee. The committee is chaired by Prof. Andrew Bradbury.

These are being received by the UIP Executive Committee and successful candidates will be announced shortly. To find out more about the scientific committee, as well as how to apply to become a member, please go to

UIP2023 Congress bids

The UIP has received a number of bids to host the 2023 UIP Congress. These are being reviewed by the UIP EC, and will be presented to societies for voting during the General Council meeting in Cracow. Bids have been received by:

- Prague (Czech Republic)
- St Petersburg (Russia)
- Ekaterinburg (Russia)
- Basel (Switzerland)
- Miami Beach (USA)

Also for discussion in Cracow will be the changing of the congress structure to replace all future Chapter meetings with World Congresses.

Changes to the UIP Secretariat

Since 2015, the UIP has been managed by LoBue & Majdalany Association Management, initially by Michael Majdalany and more recently by David So. The UIP is grateful to both Michael and David for their efforts in keeping the UIP active throughout this time.

Starting in July, the management of the UIP will be handled by David Connor from Australia, who has agreed to take over this position in the UIP as its Director.

David was the Scientific Program Chair at UIP2018 and is the Honorary Secretary of the Australasian College of Phlebology, working closely with the President Elect of the UIP, A/ Prof. Kurosh Parsi.
